English

Apostrophes can be used to show possession or make a contraction. I would like you to identify whether these apostrophes are being used for contraction or possession. Write 'P' for possession and 'C' for contraction.

- _____ 1. Marcia wasn't at the baseball game yesterday.
- _____ 2. Paul's brother enjoys playing chess with him.
- _____ 3. Karen's garden seems to always be in bloom.
- _____ 4. The city's lights were twinkling brightly.
- _____ 5. The school's playground is brand new.
- _____ 6. Roberto doesn't want to work on math right now.
- _____ 7. My mom and dad aren't going to the play tonight.
- _____ 8. Jessica's room is painted purple.
- _____ 9. It wasn't very long ago that I went to the movie theater.
- _____ 10. Shouldn't we clean up this mess?

Now I would like you to write 5 sentences that include an apostrophe for possession and 5 sentences that include an apostrophe for contraction. Remember to punctuate all ten of your sentences correctly.

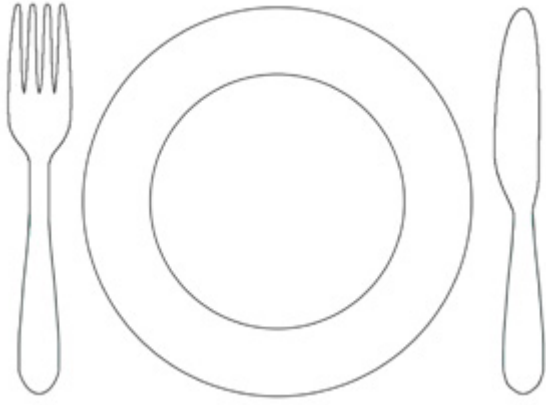

Please continue to read as much as you can, use your planner to practice spellings and work through your English CGP book wherever possible.

Foundations Subject – Geography/DT

If you haven't quite completed your Geography task from Monday, finish that off before you start DT. It would be lovely to have a complete portfolio of all your topic work you've done at home upon your return.

Your technology for this term was to make a South American recipe. For today's topic lesson I would like you to do some research (if possible) on popular South American dishes. You could also get your family involved and ask if they are aware of any.

I would then like you to imagine you are the owner of a South American Restaurant and create a menu consisting of a South American starter, main and dessert. You could also design a plate to draw your researched dishes and annotate the ingredients needed in each.

Dinner Menu

Once you're finished your menu and dish designs, if possible and you have ingredients available at home, you could have a go at making some of your South American dishes on Friday as part of your Food Technology!

Miss Hardy & Mrs. Hext's South American Menu

- Starter: MINI Chicken & chorizo empanadas
 - Main: Frango Churrasco
 - Dessert: Chocotorta
