English

There is no right or wrong answer – I would encourage you to read through your plan and know that you're happy with what you've included and satisfied that it is to the standard of a plan you would produce in school to support a piece of writing 😊

Foundations Subject – Geography

There is no right or wrong answer providing the facilities and things to do that you would like to promote are based in Durham – ha-ha! 😊

The things I really focused on circulated around our beautiful coastline.

As a child I remember visiting all of these places with only a picnic, a bat and ball and my family – this is up there with some of my most treasured memories! We can sometimes overlook the lovely sights our area has to offer and these are the things I would focus on to promote our area as these experiences are priceless and the ones that mean most. It's the little things in life in my opinion. I would go down the route of promoting 'Family Adventures' with zero or little cost – because it's even better if it doesn't cost us too much!

Miss Hardy's list to attract tourism in our area:

Beach banks/dene – Horden & Easington – a trek out with the whole family – picking sticks/rocks to create something when you get home, making swings, splashing in muddy puddles... the list is endless.

Blackhall Rocks, Seaham beach... (Our whole coastline is protected by the National Trust!)

Penshaw Monument – take a look into the history of this monument, it's right on our doorstep... and a nice little walk with a beautiful tea room next to it!

If I wasn't focusing on the coastline, here are some more of my favourite places that I think would attract tourism in our area:

Durham city – Durham Cathedral (oh-so picturesque)

Beamish museum – because who doesn't love a trip to Beamish and a tram ride whilst you eat your old-fashioned sweets?!
