Maths

We are going to use BBC Bitesize to practise efficient addition and subtraction methods. The activity uses examples from Power Maths which we often use in class.

There are power maths worksheets which I have added to the supporting documents section. This can be printed if possible, otherwise you can just write the answers.

The Colour of Home – Diary entry

We are going to begin to write a diary entry for Hassan. The story takes place over two days, choose one of these days and use the template to plan Hassan's diary entry. Remember you are writing as if you are Hassan. Use your notes and ideas from the work you have done so far to help you.

There is a planning sheet which can be printed. If you can't print this, you can write your own.

Foundations Subject – History

Anglo Saxon Britain was divided into 7 kingdoms. Can you find out what the 7 kingdoms were called?

There is a blank map which can be printed if possible, you could also draw your own of just list the 7 kingdoms.

Clue – Last week's resources might help you!
