Spot the mistake

Alex and Dexter have both completed the same multiplication.

Alex

	H	T	O
	2	3	4
x			6

Dexter

	H	T	O

Who has the correct answer?
What mistake has been made by one of the children?

Dexter has the correct answer.
Alex has forgotten to add the two hundreds she exchanged from the tens column.

Mastery

Teddy and his mum were having a reading competition.
In one month, Teddy read 814 pages.

His mum read 4 times as many pages as Teddy.

How many pages did they read altogether?

How many fewer pages did Teddy read? Use the bar model to help.

Teddy	814
Mum	814	814	814	814

$814 \times 5 = 4,070$ They read 4,070 pages altogether.
 $814 \times 3 = 2,442$ Teddy read 2,442 fewer pages than his mum.

1. How is this myth different to the others we've looked at so far?

I think this myth is different because it tells us how people got something we just take for granted and I think the idea that fire comes from a piece of the sun is clever. Also, it gives an explanation as to how humans came into existence! Another way this myth is different is because there isn't a monster in this myth. A giant is usually a bad character, but in this story Prometheus is good because he makes humans and then helps them. It is the gods who are the bad characters in this story.

2. What do you think about Zeus' personality? Why do you think that?

Zeus seems to be an angry character who likes to remind everyone of how powerful he is. He sends lightning to Earth just to frighten people and make them think they've done something to anger him. I think the punishment he gives to Prometheus is too strong and very cruel but I think he did it because Prometheus gave people the power of fire and Zeus didn't want them to have any power.

3. Was Prometheus right to do what he did?

I'm really torn about this one! I can see why Prometheus wanted to help the people he had made because they were like his children, but to steal something so powerful was wrong. I think the punishment was far too severe for his crime, though.

Foundation Subject – Art

The designs on their pottery told a story. Some told stories of daily life. Others told stories of wars and heroes. All designs, whatever they were, had to represent something that people would find pleasing. Geometric designs had to be familiar, a design perhaps that could be found in a temple or a fabric. The colours were soothing and comfortable, often red and black.
