

Maths There are no answers for this challenge. I hope you enjoyed exploring with the water and containers! English Some sentences you could have created include: • My foolish dog wiggles behind the sofa wildly! • Your elephant claps wearing wellies angrily. Foundation Subject - Science Here is an example of what your Venn diagram could look like. Bodies covered in scales. Uses gills to breathe when first born but as they grow they use their lungs. Cold blooded. Bare skin (no fur or scales). Most live on land, but some live in water. Are born from eggs. Their bodies change (metamorphosis) Does not go through Use lungs to breathe metamorphosis. Start their lives in water, They are then live on the land. vertebrates. They begin as herbivores but most grow up to be carnivores.