

Year Three 17/7/20

Maths

Today you will finish the work on time by ordering times from earliest to latest. Look at whether the times are am or pm and which hours are earlier. Over the summer, practise telling the time at every opportunity, and practise working out how long you have until the next hour. Then you'll be more than ready for Year Four!

Tick the earliest time in each set.

For your last piece of work on Greek myths and reports, I'd like you to write a report by yourselves today... on a NEW Greek god or goddess! This god or goddess needs to be one you've made up yourself! Think about what else needs a god- I've written a report for you on a new Greek god, Daskalos, the god of education! Maybe you think there needs to be a god of books, or a goddess of sports. Maybe there should be a god of fast food or a goddess of pets... whatever you like! You need to use the same layout as all of the reports we've looked at when you're writing your report though. It needs to start with a sentence introduction and have paragraphs on powers, personality and interesting facts. It needs to have a one sentence conclusion too. Look at all the ones I've already shown you and model yours on that. Be as creative as you like with the gods you create and think about all of the information that makes your god unique.

Foundation Subject – History

This is your last activity for the Romans. I'd like you to choose something about the Romans that you'd like to research further. You could look closer at some of the things the Romans introduced to England, you could look at what life was like in Rome, you could look at the Roman religion (I think you'll find something extremely interesting there!), you could look at what life was like as a child in Roman times... anything you like! You can also choose to present it however you like- videos, posters, powerpoint, fact sheet, it's up to you! See what amazing things you find out- I'm sure you'll discover that the Romans were fascinating.
