

Boats

Boats, boats, boats.....

- Boats have been used for a long time as a means of transport.
- Boats are can be used to fish from, carry people from place to place, and to transport items.

Oldest types of boats

- The oldest types of boats date back thousands of years.
- They were made of wood and were a basic canoe shape. They had oars to help paddle.

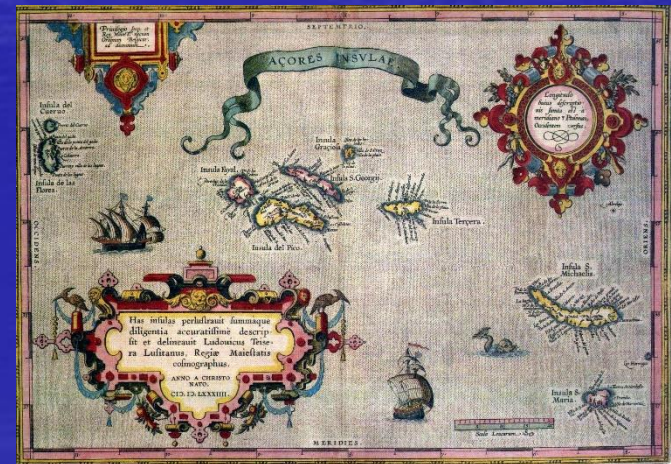

Modern canoes are normally made from types of plastic

Old canoe found in Egypt

Sailing ships

- Explorers used boats to discover new countries.
- Sailors had to stay on these ships for a long time!
- These ships had no engines but used the wind to make them move
- They used old maps, and the sun and moon to help find their way

Pirate ships

- Pirates were people who raided sailing ships for their goods and treasure.
- There are many stories about famous pirate such as black beard.

Steam boats

- Some older boats used steam to make them move, just like steam trains.

lighthouses

- Lighthouses are used to send a strong light out to sea so that sailors know where the rocks and land are.

Navy ships

- The navy use ships to go to other countries. They have lots of weapons and computers on board.

submarines

- Submarines travel underwater and only come up sometimes.
- They have a telescope that comes out of the water to look at what is above the surface.
- It is very cramped in submarines.

Fishing boats

- There are many types of fishing boats in the world. Some are small and some are big. Some use nets to catch fish and some use fishing rods.
- Most fishing boats now use engines to make them move.

Oil tankers

- Oil tankers are used to carry oil all over the world. They are very big.

Container ships

- Boats have been used to carry goods such as food and cars for a long time

Canal boats

- Canal boats are small and narrow to fit along the canals.
- People on board have to open the locks on the way.

Cruise Ships

- Nowadays there are big boats that are like a hotel! They can carry thousands of people.
- They have swimming pools, restaurants and cinemas!
- People can travel around on holiday visiting new places.

sport

- People use boats to keep fit and to have fun.

Water skiing

Yacht racing

rowing

Speed boat racing

parasailing

shipwrecks

- Over time, some ships and boats have sunk.
- Lots of fish and sea life use these wrecks to make new homes.

Famous boats

- What can you find out about the Titanic?
- What can you find out about the Mary Celeste?

